STEWARDSHIP BY THE BOOK / ADMINISTRACIÓN SEGÚN “EL LIBRO”

The words of the psalmist echo the theme of all of today’s readings. “Blessed are they who hope in the Lord.” As good stewards, firmly grounded in that hope, may we bear fruit in due season — assisting the poor, feeding the hungry, and consoling the sorrowful whenever we have the chance. (See Psalm 1)

Las palabras del Salmista hacen eco del tema de todas las lecturas de hoy. “Dichoso el hombre que ha puesto su confianza en el Señor.” Como buenos administradores de los bienes de Dios, cimentados firmemente en esa esperanza, demos fruto en su debido tiempo — ayudando a los pobres, alimentando a los hambrientos, y consolando a los afligidos siempre que se presente la

BLESSED

When we think of the word "Beatitude" we think of today's discourse from Luke's Gospel, or the more familiar one from Matthew (which begins "Blessed are the poor in spirit..."). Actually, beatitudes occur throughout the prophets and Gospels. Today in Jeremiah (with an echo in the psalm) we hear, "Blessed is the one who trusts in the Lord" (Jeremiah 17:7). Following his resurrection in John's Gospel, Christ proclaims, "Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed" (John 20:29). The evangelists placed these sayings throughout the Gospels as short reminders about the characteristics that one will find in a follower of Christ, characteristics that will help spread the Good News in this life and lead to eternal blessings in the next. In Latin, the saints are called the Beati, the "Blessed," for they are the ones who lived the "blessed" life as described by Jesus throughout the Gospels. How blest are we, when we also strive to make our own days a living beatitude!

THE CLERGY ABUSE CRISIS

The clergy sexual abuse crisis in the Roman Catholic Church has been the topic of headline news on and off since 2002. Yet, much misinformation about this critically important problem continues to exist. To separate fact from fiction about the clergy crisis, and to share what we really know and don't know about clerical sexual abuse within the Catholic Church and elsewhere, St. Peter Catholic Church in Pacifica will host an educational session featuring Thomas G. Plante of Santa Clara University. This will be held on Sunday, February 24th from 1:00-3:00 pm. All are welcome to attend at no charge. To learn more about Dr. Plante, go to scu.edu/tplante/. For additional information, please contact Eileen Barsi at (650) 438-7877 or Eileenbarsi@gmail.com.

MOSAIC TV: CATHOLIC ART AND ARTISTS

On the Sunday, February 24th episode of Mosaic, two important Catholic writers sit down with us for a wide-ranging discussion of Catholic arts, artists, and culture: How does an artist apply the teachings of René Girard? Is there a renewed pursuit of beauty in Catholic literature and art? Where does profundity in literature come from? How does art put us in touch with permanent things? What sort of culture and art are possible in a cyber-world in which we are increasingly invited to mistake the virtual for the real?

Joseph Bottum, Ph.D., (poet, essayist, magazine editor, and author of An Anxious Age) is director of a think-tank at Dakota State University for the study of cyber-ethics. James Matthew Wilson, Ph.D., (poet, scholar, teacher, and author of The Hanging God) is an associate professor of religion and literature at Villanova University. The two were in San Francisco to take part in René Girard and the Catholic Artist: A Conversation, sponsored by the Benedict XVI Institute and St. Ignatius Parish. Mosaic airs on KPIX Channel 5, CBS Bay Area at 5:30 am. Past episodes of Mosaic are viewable at sfarch.org/mosaic-tv.
